

Atmospheric temperature as a function of height and latitude for January 2004, showing the lower layers of the Earth's atmosphere and the decrease in temperature with height in the troposphere and the temperature increase in the stratosphere. (Data from the AIRS and AMSU instruments on the Aqua satellite.)

