

Street scenes over the air base in Al Asad located near the western desert of Iraq during the passage of a dust storm on April 26, 2005. The passage of such storms can change both the atmospheric visibility and the actual color of the sky in a matter of minutes. (Photograph courtesy of Gunnery Sgt. Shannon Arledge.)